Key Takeaways

1st sole across ELEVEN separate categories including Match Rating (9.2)

Pattern: 1st sole in Match Rating (9.2), Passes Complete (17), Long Pass Attempts (14), Long Passes Complete (4), Tackles (11), tackle-team-possession (6), Interceptions total (10), Interception Steals (9), Deflections (9), Deflection-Turnover (4), Clearances (9), and Blocked Shots defensive (3). T-1st in tackle-out-of-bounds (2), tackle-turnover (1), and Fouls Committed (1).

Evidence: 11 tackles at 1st sole is nearly 4x squad average (3.08). 10 interceptions at 1st sole is 2.6x squad average (3.83). 9 int steals at 1st sole is 3.3x squad average (2.75). 9 deflections + 9 clearances at 1st sole each are 3.5x + 4x squad average. 3 defensive blocked shots at 1st sole is 5x squad average. 14 long-pass attempts at 1st sole is 4x squad average. The 78-touch volume ranked 3rd sole in the squad reflects the sustained involvement across the full match duration.

Coaching Implication: The 1st sole across eleven separate categories combined with the 9.2 rating across the squad is the match-defining defensive-anchor signature. Preserve the multi-channel workload; the specific combination of squad-leading tackling + interception + deflection + clearance + blocking + range-passing is exceptionally rare and the rating reflects the match-influence footprint that anchored the 3-2 W.

6-second build-up chain contribution to A51's 1-1 equalizer GOAL

Pattern: Completed FK LONG PASS at 29:34 started the 6-second chain that produced the 1-1 equalizer goal: A71 FK long pass at 29:34 → A141 pre-assist at 29:36 → A121 assist at 29:39 → A51 open-play GOAL at 29:40 (6-second build-up-to-goal window).

Evidence: The FK long pass at 29:34 was completed at 1st sole in Long Passes Complete for the shift. The next 4 sequential touches produced pre-assist, assist, and goal all within 6 seconds. Aydin's FK long-pass delivery started the goal chain at the +2-second mark before the pre-assist and +6 seconds before the finishing shot. Not tagged as a formal pre-pre-assist but the sequence is a documented direct build-up contribution to the team's 1-1 equalizer.

Coaching Implication: The 6-second build-up chain from Aydin's FK long pass to the 1-1 goal is a high-value coaching template that shows the range-passing quality directly contributed to the team's equalizer. Preserve the FK-delivery-into-attacking-third pattern; the ability to launch a 4-touch goal-scoring sequence from a defensive FK is a rare technical + tactical output.

42 total defensive interventions with 1st sole across SEVEN defensive categories

Pattern: 1st sole in Tackles (11), Interceptions total (10), Interception Steals (9), Deflections (9), Deflection-Turnover (4), Clearances (9), and Blocked Shots defensive (3). T-1st in tackle-out-of-bounds (2) and tackle-turnover (1). 42 total defensive interventions across 5 major categories.

Evidence: Peak defensive burst at 25:07-28:55 (10 interventions in 3:48 including 3 int steals + 2 blocked shots + 1 clearance + 2 deflections + 1 def-corner). All 3 defensive blocked shots at 27:13, 28:55, 40:33 preserved the score during the sustained opposition pressure phase. 9 int steals with 100% ball-winning-into-attempt-or-clearance conversion. All 4 deflection-turnovers at 34:54, 45:50 (header), 48:47, 56:41 (100% def-TO conversion). Peak long-pass rhythm at 10:37, 15:16 (long-backward), 29:34 (goal-chain FK), 31:49 (successful-dribble-into-long-pass), 36:24.

Coaching Implication: The 42-intervention volume with 1st sole across seven separate defensive categories is the peak defensive-anchor signature. Preserve the ball-winning-into-immediate-clearance rhythm; the specific 25:07-28:55 burst producing 3 int steals + 2 blocked shots + defensive block is the coaching template for the peak reactive-defense density.

1st sole Long Pass Attempts (14) + 1st sole Long Passes Complete (4) at 4x squad volume

Pattern: 1st sole in Long Pass Attempts (14) and Long Passes Complete (4). 1st sole in Passes Complete (17) and 2nd sole in Passes Attempted (32). 3rd sole in Touches (78). 5th sole in Recoveries (5).

Evidence: 14 long-pass attempts at 4x squad average (3.58). 4 completed long passes at 3x squad average (1.33). 29% long-pass accuracy at 4x volume is above squad average for the peak attempt workload. Completed long passes at 10:37 (offside), 15:16 (long-backward from recovery), 29:34 (FK-long that started the 6-sec 1-1 goal chain), 31:49 (from same-second successful dribble), 36:24 (offside). Peak long-pass rhythm concentrated across the 1H phase.

Coaching Implication: The 1st sole Long Pass volume + goal-chain FK delivery is the range-progression signature. Preserve the willingness-to-launch pattern; the 29:34 FK long pass that started the 6-second build-up to the 1-1 equalizer goal is the highest-value coaching template for how range-passing directly feeds team goal chains.

Chance Contribution

Aydin produced 0 shot attempts, 0 key passes, 0 chance-created, 0 assists, 0 pre-assists, and 0 goals across the shift. The attacking-value output ran entirely through the build-up + range-passing channel: 14 long-pass attempts + 4 completions at 1st sole in the squad.  42 total defensive interventions with 1st sole across SEVEN defensive categories

Pattern: 1st sole in Tackles (11), Interceptions total (10), Interception Steals (9), Deflections (9), Deflection-Turnover (4), Clearances (9), and Blocked Shots defensive (3). T-1st in tackle-out-of-bounds (2) and tackle-turnover (1). 5th sole in Recoveries (5).

Evidence: Peak defensive burst at 25:07-28:55 (10 interventions in 3:48 including 3 int steals + 2 blocked shots + 2 deflections). All 3 defensive blocked shots at 27:13, 28:55, 40:33 preserved the score. 9 int steals with 100% ball-winning-into-attempt-or-clearance conversion. All 4 deflection-turnovers at 34:54, 45:50 (header), 48:47, 56:41 (100% def-TO conversion). 6 tackle-team-possession contributions (1st sole) retained team possession without turnover.

Coaching Implication: The 42-intervention volume with 1st sole across seven separate categories is the peak defensive-anchor signature. Preserve the ball-winning-into-immediate-clearance rhythm; the 25:07-28:55 burst is the coaching template for the peak reactive-defense density that decided the 3-2 win.

1st sole Long Pass Attempts + Complete at 4x squad volume + goal-chain FK delivery

Pattern: 1st sole in Long Pass Attempts (14) and Long Passes Complete (4). 1st sole in Passes Complete (17). 2nd sole in Passes Attempted (32). 3rd sole in Touches (78) and Cross Attempts (1). 4th sole in Short Pass Accuracy (75%).

Evidence: 17 of 32 passes complete (53% overall). 12 of 16 short passes complete (75%). 4 of 14 long passes complete (29% at 4x squad-average volume). Completed long passes at 10:37 (offside), 15:16 (long-backward from recovery), 29:34 (goal-chain FK), 31:49 (successful-dribble-into-long-pass), 36:24 (offside). The 29:34 FK long pass started the 6-second chain to A51's 1-1 equalizer goal.

Coaching Implication: The 1st sole Long Pass volume + goal-chain FK delivery is the range-progression signature. Preserve the willingness-to-launch pattern; the 29:34 FK long pass that started the 6-second build-up to the 1-1 equalizer goal is the highest-value coaching template for how range-passing directly feeds team goal chains.

 Loss volume reflects the 1st-sole long-pass ambition + peak-involvement workload

Pattern: 15 total possession losses across 32 pass attempts + 2 dribble attempts + 78 touches. 10 incomplete long passes + 4 incomplete short passes + 1 incomplete cross.

Evidence: Loss rate 19% (15 of 78 touches) at 3rd-sole involvement volume. 10 of 15 losses came from long-pass attempts at 4x squad-average volume; the range-progression ambition was substantially higher than any other player's attempt rate. 4 of 5 short-pass losses came in post-defensive-action contexts (9:16, 28:13, 28:55, 49:35). None of the 15 losses produced an opposition shot within 16 seconds.

Coaching Implication: The 19% loss rate at 3rd-sole touch volume driven by the 1st-sole long-pass ambition is the range-passing-at-scale signature. Preserve the willingness-to-launch; the 4 completed long passes at 4x squad volume + FK long pass that started the goal chain show the attempt rate is producing net team-value even at 29% raw completion.

Player Summary & Development Plan

✔ What Aydin Did Well

1st sole Match Rating (9.2) across the entire squad: MOTM-caliber defensive-anchor + range-passing performance.

42 total defensive interventions with 1st sole across 7 defensive categories: Tackles (11), Int (10), Int Steals (9), Deflections (9), Def-TO (4), Clearances (9), Blocked Shots (3).

6-second build-up chain contribution to A51's 1-1 equalizer GOAL: FK LONG PASS at 29:34 → pre-assist → assist → GOAL at 29:40.

1st sole Long Pass Att (14) + Complete (4) at 4x squad volume: Range-passing ambition at squad-leading attempt rate.

1st sole tackle-team-possession (6) at 8x squad avg + 3 defensive blocked shots: Multi-channel tackling + shot-blocking at 100% preservation of score.

Peak defensive burst at 25:07-28:55: 10 interventions in 3:48 including 2 defensive blocked shots + 3 int steals.

Areas for Development

Long-pass accuracy under high volume: 4 of 14 (29%); refining timing on range-progression attempts.

Short-pass accuracy at moderate volume: 12 of 16 (75%); refining release-under-press on post-defensive attempts.

Fouls conceded: 1 foul (T-1st) at 58:10; refining tackle-approach angle.

Development Priorities

Priority	Horizon	Evidence from this match
Long-pass accuracy under high volume	Next 5 matches	4 of 14 long passes complete (29%) at 1st-sole volume (4x squad average). The 10 losses spread across the shift with 4 in the 15:36-18:23 opening-attempt cluster. Refining timing on range-progression attempts would lift the 29% baseline given the peak attempt workload.
Short-pass accuracy at moderate volume	Next 3 matches	12 of 16 short passes complete (75%). The 4 losses at 9:16 (opposition-touched), 28:13 (post-int-steal), 28:55 (post-blocked-shot), 49:35 (recovery-linked). Refining release-under-press quality on post-defensive-action attempts would preserve the 75% baseline.
Fouls conceded	Ongoing	1 foul (T-1st) at 58:10 (final recorded action). Refining tackle-approach angle would preserve the peak T-1st tackle volume while reducing the foul-conceding rate.
